

WILLIAM KASPAR, BANKER, CELEBRATES HIS 87TH BIRTHDAY

William Kaspar, founder and president of the Kaspar State bank and of the First National Bank of Cicero, will celebrate his eighty-seventh birthday today at his home, at 3234 Washington boulevard. In spite of his age, he is still active in his business and is at his desk at his bank every day at 8:30 a. m.

WILLIAM KASPAR.

Mr. Kaspar was born in Holic, Bohemia, and came to this country when 17 years old with only $2 in his pocket. He served during the civil war and still bears scars of wounds received at the battle of Baton Rouge. He was a member of the public library board which built the present public library.

GOTHAM SETTLES LABOR TROUBLES OF BURLESQUE

Word was received from New York last night that the trouble between labor unions and the burlesque theaters, which led Saturday night to the explosion of bombs at the Star and Garter and the Columbia theaters here, had been settled. Details were withheld.

Issy Herk, speaking for the American Burlesque association in New York, said:

"The difficulty has been adjusted. No New York revision of the scale of wages was involved—only customs and practices."
